

Teresa Kennedy Summer 2015 Fieldwork

I spent this past summer as an intern at Human Rights Watch in the Health and Human Rights Division. I worked along with two researchers on projects related to palliative care, drug regulations, and violence against health workers. It was fascinating to see the day-to-day workings of such an impactful organization, and to gain experience working alongside such experienced researchers.

