

Rebecca Wornhoff Summer 2015 Fieldwork

This summer I worked in a clinic in rural Nicaragua serving primarily pediatric and maternity patients. Along with a site partner, I developed exercise and cooking classes for diabetic patients. I also conducted senior thesis research on child socialization and the dynamics between the clinic and the parents in the community.

