

Placement Director for Anthropology, Dr. Maurizio Albahari

Description of the Director:

The placement director offers support and guides students through the process of looking for jobs in anthropology. Their primary role is to coordinate and organize practice phone and campus interviews and job talks. A student's advisor, committee, and other professors are the primary people who help students craft their letters of intent, CVs, and other application materials.

Contact: malbahar@nd.edu